

CSA JPIC Library
Environmental Education Resources
Last updated 8/30/2021

Eaarth: Making Life on a Tough New Planet, by Bill McKibben

- McKibben shows that we're living on a fundamentally altered planet – and opens our eyes to the kind of change we'll need to order to make our civilization endure.

Environmental Stewardship in the Judeo-Christian Tradition, by the Action Institute

- This collection of essays seeks to articulate the broad Judeo-Christian theological principles concerning the environment, and to distinguish those principles from contrary ideas popular in the environmental movement.

Green Sisters: A Spiritual Ecology, by Sarah McFarland Taylor

- How can we as human beings find ethical and sustainable ways to live with one another and with other living beings on this planet? This book provides compelling answers from a variety of religious communities.

Hydrofracking: What Everyone Needs to Know, by Alex Prud'homme

- Prud'homme explains the basics of hydraulic fracturing, considers the economic and political benefits and explores concerns about health dangers and damage to the environment.

Kiss the Ground - an 85-minute long feature film narrated by Woody Harrelson and directed by Josh Tickell and Rebecca Harrel, which unveils a game-changer: We can reverse global warming and the Earth's soil is the solution. Available on disc.

Listening to Nature: How to Deepen Your Awareness of Nature, by Joseph Cornell

- A guidebook to a deeper awareness of nature. You will learn, not mere facts about nature but how to get the feel of nature, through inspiring quotations from famous naturalists, stunning photography, and Cornell's ever-popular nature awareness activities.

The Good Food Revolution: Growing Healthy Food, People, and Communities, by Will Allen, CEO of Growing Power

-“From the plots of his Milwaukee, WI urban farm to low-income communities across America, Will Allen shows us a new type of heroism.”

The Story of Stuff: How our obsession with stuff is trashing the planet, our communities, and our health – and a vision for change, by Annie Leonard

- We have a problem with Stuff. With just 3% of the world's population, the U.S. consumes 30% of the world's resources and creates 30% of the world's waste.

This Changes Everything: Capitalism vs. the Climate, by Naomi Klein

- Author Naomi Klein tackles the most profound threat humanity has ever faced: The war our economic model is waging against life on earth.

Whole Earth Discipline: An Ecopragmatist Manifesto, by Steward Brand

- Brand shows us exactly where the sources of our dilemmas lie and offers a bold and inventive set of policies and design-based solutions for shaping a more sustainable society.

To check out any of these resources, please contact tabler@csasisters.org